Notes to completing Sections 3.1 and 3.2

In Section 3.1:

1. 'Relationship' includes, but is not limited to, the following types of relationship:
  - Family
  - Business (other than a casual business relationship)
  - Fiduciary
  - Relationship in which one person is accustomed, or obliged, to act in accordance with the directions, instructions, or wishes of the other.
2. In Column 3 of the table you must disclose the amount ($) or value (%) of consideration which you derive or expect to derive from the person or entity to whom you have referred the buyer.
3. In Column 4 of the table you must disclose the amount, value or nature of any benefit, which the person or entity to whom you have referred the buyer has received, receives or expects to receive in connection with the sale, or for promoting the sale, or for providing a service in connection with the sale, of the property.
4. For guidance on what to disclose as a 'benefit' see note below for Section 3.2.

In Section 3.2:

What you should disclose as a 'benefit'

It is your obligation to disclose any benefit, to your knowledge, which any person has received, receives, or expects to receive in connection with the sale, or for promoting the sale, or providing a service in connection with the sale, of the property.

The following lists are not exhaustive.

You NEED to disclose:

- your fees, commissions and remuneration
- fees, commissions and remuneration to be paid to financial institutions, finance brokers, financial advisers, financiers, valuers, marketing agents and promoters
- all benefits dependent on a successful sale (e.g. a commission or fee paid to any person as a success fee)
- marketing, advertising and promotion costs, where their payment is contingent on the sale of the lot ('the lot' is the property described in Item 2 on page 1 of this form).

Examples:

- a) where a marketing company will receive money or another benefit because the lot has sold - DO disclose
- b) where a marketing company will receive money or another benefit for the sale of three lots, and the lot is one of those - DO disclose, even where the other two lots have not yet sold.

As a general rule, you need to disclose any benefits contingent on the sale of the property.

You NEED NOT disclose:

- mortgage pay-outs
- performance bonuses
- expenses incurred prior to the sale in preparation of the property for sale (such as painting or maintenance) and in developing the land (such as professional fees and disbursements paid to engineers, surveyors, architects and town planners)
- vendor's profit or net proceeds of sale
- property developer's profit or development fees
- non-monetary benefits, where the total value of those benefits in any 12 month period does not exceed $100
- solicitors' professional fees and ordinary disbursements in relation to the developing, selling or purchasing of the property
- amounts payable to local, State or Federal Government.

$ Amount (or value or nature) of the benefit

You must provide the amount, value or nature of the benefit as accurately as is possible at the time of the disclosure.

You should express the benefit as follows:

1. Amount ($) including GST. If you can not do this, then -
2. a value (%). If you can not do this, then -
3. describe the nature of the benefit. You should ONLY do this if the benefit can not be described as an amount or value.

If you do not know the exact amount or value of the benefit, provide a reasonable estimate of the final amount or value, based on the purchase price at the time of disclosure.

Selling agent's commission

If you are a real estate agent – you are only required to disclose the total commission paid to your agency. You are not required to disclose how the commission is distributed to persons involved in the sale.

If you are a property developer – you must disclose the total commission paid on sale to your employees and/or salespersons. You are not required to disclose how the commission is distributed to persons involved in the sale.

This page is part of the approved form and must not be detached.
