

The Highgate • 127 Kent Street

The Highgate completed in August 1995 is an unparalleled rival against the modern new high rise developments. Once the Esso House office block, the building has been reconstructed and converted into 213 residential apartments, including an additional eight floors and new façade.

The distinct grand foyer sets the tone for this a grand and luxurious five star residential tower. The Highgate has with some of the finest facilities and onsite concierge available in Sydney today. The common areas of the foyer, gymnasium, meeting rooms and pool recently went under a 5 star refurbishment with the addition of a suspended swimming positioned under a glass roof, allowing light to flood into the leisure facility area.

In a prime location on Kent Street, residents and their guests have the privilege to access an observation deck with views over the lush foliage of Observatory Hill and charming heritage buildings to sweeping vistas of Sydney's iconic landmarks.
